September 7th 1864—tf J D MILLER Master

HON. THAD STEVENS DEMOLISHING H. J. RAYMOND.—On the passage of the constitutional amendment through the United States House of Representatives January 31st a most able speech was made by Thaddeus Stevens during which he pretty much extinguished the conservative H J Raymond, of the New York Times. For a sample of the weapons used by the veteran member from Pennsylvania, we give the concluding portions of his speech

"One word as to another portion of the gentleman's speech. I could not but admire (an admiration mingled with wonder) the amiability of temper, the tenderness of heart, the generosity of feeling which must have prompted some of the closing sentences of the excellent and able speech delivered by the gentleman on Monday last. His words were these: 'The gigantic struggle is at an end. The courage and devotion on either side which made it so terrible and so long, no longer owe a divided duty, but have become the common property of the American name, the priceless possession of the American republic throughout all time to come. The dead of the contending hosts sleep beneath the soil of a common country, under a common flag. Their hostilities are hushed, and they are the dead of the nation forever.'"

Sir, much more than amiable, much more than religious, must be the sentiment that would prompt any man to say that the "courage and devotion" which so long withstood our arms, prolonging the terrible conflict of war and sacrificing the lives of thousands of loyal men, are hereafter to be the common boast of the nation, "the priceless possession of the American republic throughout all time to come," that it is the pride of our country so many infamous rebels were so ferocious in their murders. Sir, we are to consider these dead on both sides as the dead of the nation—the common dead! And so I suppose we are to raise monuments beside the monuments to Reynolds and others to be erected in the cemetery on the battle-field of Gettysburg; we must there build high the monumental marble for men like Barksdale, whom I have seen in this hall draw their bowie-knives on the representatives of the people, men who died on the battle field of Gettysburg in arms against the Government, and where they now lie buried in ditches, "unwept, unhonored and unsung." They are, I suppose, to be raised, and put in the fore front rank of the nation, and we are to call them through all time as the dead of the nation! Sir, was there ever blasphemy before like this? Who was it burnt the temple of Ephesus? Who was it imitated the thunder of Jove? All that was poor compared with this blasphemy. I say, if the loyal dead, who are thus associated with those who murdered them, put by the gentleman on the same footing with them, and are to be treated as the "common dead of the nation"—I say sir, if they could have heard the gentleman, they would have broken the cerements of the tomb and stalked forth and haunted him until his eyeballs were seared.

Mr. Raymond—May I ask the gentleman's indulgence for a moment?

Mr Stevens—Wait until after the vote has been taken.

Mr. Raymond—There will be no time then; I prefer it now. It is simply for a personal explanation.

Mr Stevens—I yield to the gentleman.

Mr Raymond—Mr Speaker, the gentleman in his closing remarks has misapprehended and misstated both my words and my meaning. I take it for granted the gentleman from Pennsylvania, and every other gentleman of this House, can distinguish between courage as an element of character, and the cause in which that courage has been shown; and I am sure that there is no man upon this floor who will not say that the courage, the persistent determination shown by the rebels in their resistance to the Government, if shown in a good cause, would have been worthy of all admiration and respect. I was talking of that courage as a quality of character, not for the cause in which it was shown, and what I meant to say—and what I trust I will not be accused of blasphemy for saying—is simply this: that the courage if it had been shown under a common flag, in a common cause with us, to sustain the flag and glory of this great country, would have done honor to the American name. I have no hesitation in expressing for it my admiration in that sense and to that extent. As to building monuments to the rebel dead and singing paeans in their praise, I have only to say that the whole of it is a figment of the gentleman's very prolific imagination. I neither said nor intended anything which could bear any such construction.

Mr. Stevens—Let me, in reply to the gentleman, read from his speech: "The gigantic contest is at an end. The courage and devotion on either side which made it so terrible and so long no longer owe a divided duty, but have become the common property of the American name, the priceless possession of the American Republic through all time to come. The dead of the contending hosts sleep beneath the soil of a common country, under their common flag. Their hostilities are hushed and they are the dead of the nation forevermore. The victor may well exult in the victory he has achieved. Let it be our task, as it will be our highest glory, to make the vanquished and their posterity, to the latest generation rejoice in their defeat."

It will be recollected that Raymond, with Seward and Thurlow Weed, are the main supporters of the late most extraordinary movement of the President. The foregoing extract shows the means they are using to debauch the true loyal sentiment of the country.

UNIONISTS MURDERED.—The Fort Smith New Era of January 23d has the following communication announcing the murder of three Union men in Texas and the flight of a fourth:

I H Isabel, formerly a citizen of Iowa, where he enlisted as a soldier in the Eighteenth Regiment Iowa Infantry and served three years, married last summer in this place, and in September last moved and settled in Lamar county, Texas, returned here a few days ago, and reports that on the ninth of this month three of his neighbors who were citizens of Texas before the war and who fled for Fort Smith as refugees some two years ago, and enlisted in the Second Kansas Cavalry and after they were mustered out of the service returned home and while engaged in splitting rails, were attacked by seven rebels, and three of the men killed on the spot. Isabel had to flee for his life, leaving his wife behind him. The rebels in Texas declare that no Yankee or Federal soldier shall reside there.

It will never do for Democrats to trust Johnson. He is neither honest nor firm.—Albany Democrat.

Avery's twenties, then, have been expended in vain. But Avery knew the man, and we are not disposed to wail his loss.

NOT CORRECT.—The Statesman publishes the names of about a dozen Union men and says it "already knows they sustain the President." We have known that fact for some time. But if that paper means that they sustain him, like it does, against a Union Congress and the Union party of the nation, it either ignorantly or wilfully misrepresents some of them. We claim no authority to state their opinions, but feel quite sure that a number of the gentlemen named agree with nine-tenths of the Union men of this State and of the entire country, in the belief that Congress in refusing to admit rebels into the national councils is right, and that its general policy of reconstruction is sufficiently lenient, and while they do not admit the necessity of a division in the Union party, yet, if the President should force such an issue by taking sides with the defunct confederacy, they would unhesitatingly support Congress, without the least fear of losing a single loyal State, even if a few place-seekers should go over to the enemy. The Statesman is very officious in using the names and stating the views of individuals evidently with the intention of dragging as many as possible with it, in case it should, in some of its spasms, happen to flounder out of the Union ship, on the principle that "misery loves company." If such a contingency should ever happen, its company will be few and far between—not sufficient to take the State out of the hands of the "radicals" or "abolitionists" as it and the copperheads delight to term a large majority of the Union people.

The above is from the State Journal of Eugene City. The falsehoods of the Statesman are recoiling on it already. Some of the men whose names the Statesman so officiously paraded reside at Eugene City; hence the Journal in touching on this matter may be supposed to "speak by the card."

COL. JOHN LANE.—This gentleman, late of the Confederate service, visited this place during the week, on his way to his father's in Douglas county. Mr Lane entered that service as a Lieutenant and by gallant deeds and meritorious conduct won his way to a conspicuous rank.—Jimmycrat.

"Meritorious conduct!" Well, Jimmy, that's pretty good, isn't it? for a man who has so much anxiety as you have for the Constitution and the salvation of the country. Very meritorious conduct wasn't it, to desert the country which was educating him for its own defense, to join its deadly enemies, and to serve them so effectually as to earn "conspicuous rank!" O, yes, excessively meritorious conduct—in democratic estimation! The opinion of most loyal men, Jimmy, is that such conduct merited only the eternal execration of all good men. But after all, Jimmy, you are only a consistently traitorous scoundrel in praising such conduct.

CONGRESS. The present Congress fairly and brilliantly embodies the spirit of the Union party—the purpose steeled by a long and fiery conflict, the intelligence quickened by the continual apparition of dangers to be surmounted and of demands to be supplied, the love of liberty kindled to continental ardor, the respect for that which is at once ancient and good, unmingled with reverence for that which is ancient and bad. Composed, to a great extent, of the same earnest men who served in the national councils throughout the war, who toiled with undaunted energy to sustain and equip the Government, who rallied the people under the gloom of defeat, who exposed the villainous sophistry of the Copperheads in critical campaigns, who struggled incessantly to abolish halting and ruinous conservatism from the Cabinet and from the army, and who were in thorough sympathy with the loyal masses, from the firing of the first gun until the thunder of victory pealed over the land—this legislative body would furnish a sad example of swift decay if it were not to-day the exact exponent of the will of the conquerors.—Sacramento Union.

James R. Buchanan, a former resident of Wasco county, has been arrested at Walla Walla, by Deputy Sheriff Gilliam, of Wasco. Buchanan was convicted in June, 1865, in Wasco county, of cattle stealing, but managed to escape before trial on a second indictment, went first to California and then to Walla Walla county, where he had settled down as a farmer.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 15, 1866.

UNION STATE CONVENTION.

The voters of the several counties of Oregon who have been and are in favor of maintaining the supremacy of the Union, the Constitution and the laws of the United States, against all opposition, are respectfully invited to hold Conventions according to the usual custom, for the election of Delegates to a Union State Convention, to be held at Corvallis on the 29th day of March, 1866, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor, Member of Congress, Secretary of State, State Treasurer and State Printer. We respectfully recommend the holding of County Conventions throughout the State on Saturday, the 17th day of March, 1866, at which time Delegates to the State Convention can be selected. It is also recommended that the precinct meetings be held on Saturday, the 10th day of March. Delegates to the State Convention from each Judicial District, assembled at the time of holding said Convention, will nominate candidates for Judge and Prosecuting Attorney, where vacancies exist. The several counties are entitled to send Delegates to the State Convention as follows:

I. R. MOORES,
Chairman Union State Central Committee.
W. C. Whitson, Secretary.

New Hampshire.

While the enemies of the Union party are day by day predicting its inevitable and speedy dissolution, the party, strong and compact as ever, mocks as idle breath the words they utter, and goes marching on to victory. Our dispatches have told us that all eyes were turned toward New Hampshire and Connecticut, awaiting the result of their elections. New Hampshire has spoken and her verdict is again on the side of the Union Republican party. A Unionist is chosen Governor of the State by 5,000 majority. New Hampshire gave Lincoln only 2,182 majority in 1864; in the present election she more than doubles it. Connecticut will vote next month; can we have doubts of an equally favorable result in that State? "Johnson Democracy" does not thrive very fast in the East. The loyal people of the country are not going to throw away the fruits of their great and costly victory. The party which has proven its fealty to the Union will be sustained.

The Democratic Coup d'Etat.

The loquacity of Garret Davis, the voluble Kentucky Senator, has given the country an intimation of a new and striking plan on the part of the opponents of the Union party to place the "conservatives," Copperheads and rebels in power, and to exclude all others from any part in the management of the Government. It has long been a matter of painful inquiry among the Democracy as to how they should succeed in their efforts to turn the loyal majority out of power and to rule the country on Calhoun's principle that minorities ought to govern. At last a plan suggests itself. Audacity, one might think, would be necessary to insure success; but Garret Davis, elated with the happy idea, blurts it right out. The Northern Copperheads who have already acquired Congressional honors, and Southern rebels who are so anxious to acquire them, are to come together, to declare themselves the Congress of the United States, to obtain from the President a recognition of them in their official capacity as the legislative branch of the Government, to close their doors against the "Radical Abolition" members and to deny the "fanatics of the North" the right of representation in Congress until they shall cease their factious and unpatriotic opposition to the [illegible] Act of the defunct Confederate Government in the City of Washington. This is an outline of the new scheme. It is a plot worthy of a Democratic mind, and bears a [illegible] to the conspiracy to divide the Union which the disloyal wing of that party entered into five years ago.

The patriotic Garret "hopes that Johnson will invite the Southern members to the city to unite with Democratic and conservative members from the North and recognize them as the Congress." What a promising plan! What beautiful strategy! A Congress made up wholly of grovelling submissive Democrats with their old masters and natural allies the rebels of the South! The plan must strike the Democratic imagination as a most rare and excellent one. The Democracy tried to capture the Government at the ballot-box and failed; they tried to overthrow it by force of arms and failed again, and more signally than before; and now they suggest a [illegible] which is to do for them what neither ballots nor bullets could accomplish. The last hope of re-establishing the Southern Confederacy rests on the plan which the [illegible] native Kentucky "chap" proposes. A deadly blow is to be delivered at the loyal majority in Congress, and through Congress, at the people. At the Capital of the nation we are to have coup d'etat strictly on French principles. The Democrats will [illegible] counsel the President to disband the national legislature and to appoint another which shall be more willing to sustain his [illegible] policy. The rebels and their political confreres are to have the Government whatever may befall.

Democracy is fertile enough in expedients; but unluckily for itself, though luckily for the country, it has of late years been accustomed to fail in the execution of its schemes.

What shall the Democracy of Oregon do under the circumstances?—Review.

Without attempting to answer as to what they ought to do, we know what they will do. They will [illegible] Johnson or condemn him, just as the act will best suit their dishonest purposes; they will eulogize Jeff Davis, or Thad. Stevens, whichever promises most aid to the Confederate cause; they will adopt such a platform as in their opinion, will best subserve the interest of whatever treason may be left still alive, and they will nominate candidates who, if elected, will use whatever of talent they possess in carrying into practice the damnable theories of Confederate Secession Democracy. The Confederate candidates will, through the canvass, profess great devotion to the Union and the Constitution, while in their secret hearts they wish both among the dead and damned, just as they have done all through the great struggle of the nation for its own life. They will, perhaps, re-enact the pious and honorable dodge of importing voters from one county into another, in which case, failing to carry the election, they will again exhibit what honor there is among such rogues, by refusing to pay the bought scoundrels. They will learn by emphatic defeat that men still reeking with the stench of rank disloyalty, are not yet held in such estimation by the people of Oregon, as to be preferred to Union men for office.

Democratic rejoicings are very general just now but somewhat tempered with a wholesome fear that they are not altogether out of the woods. When they think of the veto, the President's speech and the prospect of a split in the Union party, they can't help singing Gloria in Excelsis, with all the accompaniments on strings and in horns. But when they suddenly remember habeas corpus, military commissions, and traitors knocking in vain at the door of Congress, their strains are instantly turned into Deus Misereatur, which are also accompanied with many horns. Between the two styles of music, jumbled together as they must be by performers accustomed for several years only to the melody of wailing and gnashing of teeth, they are making rather a ridiculous medley.

THE CASCADE MOUNTAIN ROADS.—A gentleman who passed over the Portage road last week reports it in execrable condition, being passable only for loose stock. The Hardy road, also, was filled with fallen timber, and nearly impassable, but parties were engaged in clearing it out.

State Items.

Q. A. Brooks, Postal Agent, has just returned from a trip through Washington Territory, where he has been looking after the condition and efficiency of the mail service. He informs us that some important changes of schedules will be soon recommended for that Territory. Among other things recommended by Mr. Brooks, for the benefit of this State we may mention a tri-weekly mail between Portland and Astoria, to go through each way by daylight; a semi weekly to Lafayette and return; and a weekly from Lafayette to Tillamook. A recommendation has gone forward for the establishment of a post road and service over the same, from Portland, via East Portland, Sandy, Powell's Valley, Union Schoolhouse and Foster's, to Cutting's Mill. Another route recommended is from Oregon City by way of Cutting's Mill, Glad Tidings, Silverton, Sublimity and Scio to Lebanon. These routes, if established, will be of vast convenience to a large section of country, hitherto very inexcusably neglected. The two together will make a chain of connections from Eugene City to Portland, along or near the foot hills of the Cascade Mountains where the settlements are quite as dense as along the stage route, but too distant from it to receive the benefits of its mail carriage.

J. H. Mitchell, the Secretary of the Oregon Gold and Silver Mining Company, has shown us specimens taken out the company's new tunnel in the White Bull, which exhibit indications of silver, scarcely inferior to anything we ever saw, except from the Poorman and perhaps one or two other leads of Idaho. The new tunnel has just been sunk to the depth of one hundred feet and taps the ledge at the depth of sixty feet from the surface. The west half of the ledge is of dark blue quartz, loaded with the sulphurets of silver. This half is divided from the other by a streak of white quartz. The east half is rose colored quartz indicating the possession of gold. The entire width of the ledge is about twelve feet. All parties in those mines are highly elated with the appearances brought to light by the new tunnel. The Oregon company has prosecuted its work under considerably difficult circumstances, but by judicious perseverance, has succeeded in obtaining a very flattering prospect. The fact that this tunnel is lower down the mountain, and shows better apparent silver prospects that the tunnels of greater altitude, are features in Santiam prospects highly encouraging to all parties interested. The specimens now here will be at once assayed and the result given at an early day to the public.

Mr. J. W. Call, just down from Albany, gives us the following further information in relation to the late horrible murders in Linn county. After the arrest of Thomas Smith, parties who had gone out to the neighborhood had returned to Albany bringing the report that the little girl of the murdered people states that her uncle, Thomas Smith, killed both her father and mother and then threatened to kill her if she did not tell the same story as he did about it. Another suspicious circumstance is related by one of the neighbors, who states that on the day of the murder he called at the house to make inquiries about cattle. Thomas Smith came to the door and while holding it partly open, the neighbor saw a man lying on the floor and saw blood. He asked what was the matter. Smith answered that his brother had killed his wife and then killed himself. The neighbor asked why he had not made an alarm. Smith replied that it would no no good, only stir up an excitement and proposed that it would be better to bury the bodies quietly and say nothing about it. The neighbor immediately went off and gave information. The result of the preliminary examination had not transpired. About 300 people were present and there was a strong feeling in favor of hanging Smith.

The Mountaineer states that a little boy about five years old, named Broback, was seriously injured at the Dalles on the 13th, by falling beneath the wheel of a wagon which passed over his leg, breaking it below the knee.

We learn from a correspondent at Auburn, that the Union County Convention of Baker county met March 2d and made the following nominations:

For State Senator, Daniel Boeday; Representative, William Corcoran; County Clerk, Chas. M. Foster; Sheriff, M. F. Colt; County Commissioners, Thos McMurren, J. J. Jarvis; Assessor, R. F. Brown; Supt. Schools, J. M. Boyd; Surveyor, J. B. Bowen; Coroner, Dr. M. C. Farrar.

J. H. Marshall was recommended for Joint Representative with Union county, and Messrs. C. E. Smith, J. H. Johnson and George Slocum were appointed a committee to confer with a like committee on the part of Union county, in relation to the nomination of a Joint Representative.

Messrs. George Slocum, William Corcoran, John Furman and Leonard Lowe were elected Delegates to the Union State Convention.

LINCOLN'S RECONSTRUCTION POLICY.—It has been said, in defence of President Johnson's late action, in the matter of reconstructing the Southern States, without the concurrent action of Congress, that he is but carrying forward the policy of Abraham Lincoln, declared before his assassination. This is not the truth. When the resolution of Congress excluding the rebellious States from the electoral college, was presented to Mr. Lincoln for his signature, he said that he did not believe the resolution was right, for it excluded loyal electors from Arkansas and Louisiana, but that it was the province of Congress to decide that matter, and he must yield to the law-making power.

The Oregonian is the only paper professing Union sentiments which has denounced the President as a Copperhead traitor.—Statesman.

The Oregonian has not "denounced the President as a copperhead traitor." Were it not that the expression would savor too much of the Statesman's style, we should publish the editor of that paper as a malignant liar.

THE OLDEST AND LARGEST
LIFE INSURANCE CO.
In the United States!

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF POLICY ISSUED.
ALL POLICIES ARE NON-FORFEITABLE.

Dividends are declared Annually—which can be applied as Cash in reducing the yearly premium commencing on the second year, or towards buying more insurance.

The last Dividend (Feb. 1st, 1866) was nearly double in amount and in proportion to premiums paid than was ever declared in the same space of time by any other Company in the world.

$10,000 00	$6,926 09	$16,926 09
5,000 00	3,278 43	8,278 43
4,000 00	2,389 53	6,389 53
1,000 00	1,508 39	2,508 39

N. B.—Particular attention is requested to the advantages afforded by the payment of the premiums, on both Life and Endowment assurance policies, in THE ANNUAL INSTALLMENTS. The rates of such premiums charged by this Company are lower, while the dividends are greater, than in any other life company in the United States. As an additional inducement, the Company will, on surrender of such policy, issue a paid-up policy for an equitable sum, which they will guarantee must exceed the proportionate amount.

For instance, on surrender of a policy for $10,000 (other amounts in the same proportion,) on which the premiums are payable in ten annual installments, the Company will issue a PAID-UP POLICY which they will guarantee

After the payment of 2 premiums SHALL EXCEED $2000
" " 5 " " $5000.

And so on. On the Five Year Life Plan the pro rata is [illegible].

ENDOWMENT POLICIES are issued payable to the assured at death or any age between 40 and 65, with full participation in the surplus of the Company, thus combining Life Insurance with a safe and profitable investment.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION is called to the Table of Rates by Ten Annual Installments for "Endowments," issued by this Company, which present UNEQUALED ATTRACTIONS, EITHER AS AN INVESTMENT OR PROVISION IN CASE OF PREMATURE DEATH, for it is now universally conceded that aside from the Life Insurance which is combined with the Policy, that there is no way of investing small installments in so safe and highly advantageous a manner, as it gives the [illegible] and the entire benefits of an immense [illegible] and well regulated Financial Institution. To parties in [illegible] the investment, and by many is considered an actual necessity for present purposes ALONE, for aside from its many other advantages it constitutes the VERY FINEST FORM OF COLLATERAL upon which to borrow or convert into cash in cases of emergency, which can be readily accomplished, and for a far greater sum than has been expended on the Policy—inasmuch as from the first it shares in the immense dividends of the Company—and is non-forfeitable for a full pro rata [illegible] of the entire policy for each and every year's [illegible] paid thereon.

The above class of Policy is attracting much attention throughout the United States. THOUSANDS who have heretofore declined insuring are now rapidly availing themselves of its benefits, as the marvelous rate of [illegible] in the [illegible] of this Company will attest. The cash assets of this Company alone, exceed in amount the total cash assets of the other sixteen companies [illegible] incorporated in the State of New York, while the CASH dividends for the last two years were nearly double that ever declared by any other Company.

Parties desirous to insure should start in at once to SECURE A FULL YEAR'S DIVIDEND to be declared February 1st, 1867. Apply to

Meeting of the Common Council.—The regular weekly meeting of the Common Council was held at the usual hour last evening, Mayor Failing presiding.

The following members were present, Messrs Gilman, Lownsdale, McCraken, Plummer, Rosenthal, Thompson and Watkins—7.

The record of the previous meeting was read by the Clerk, and approved.

A petition, signed by numerous citizens of the Third Ward, asking that a lamp post be placed at the south-east corner of the Public Plaza, was read and referred to the committee on streets and public property.

Mr. G. M. Carter, requested by communication that the use of block 175, Market Square, be granted to him for the summer, for the purpose of making brick, stating that in consideration of the privilege, certain improvements would be made by him. The communication was referred to the committee on streets and public property.

A petition of John Phillippi, to have his license for the retailing of liquors at the Bella Union Saloon transferred to Adam Kestler, was read and on motion to indefinitely postpone the consideration of the petition—

Mr. Thompson said he was not aware that Mr. Phillippi had any license to transfer. He was aware that a certain Mr. Wagner had been in possession of a license to retail at that particular saloon, and since he had come to grief Mr Phillippi applied for a transfer of the license to himself, which was refused, and none had been authorized. He now claims to have one, which was a new thing to the [illegible]. Mr. T. was opposed to transferring licenses to parties whom the council knew nothing of—and as to the place in question it should be suppressed at all events. The saloon was still running, and appeared to be the same bawdy gordy establishment. He had inquired about it and had been informed that Phillippi had produced in the Recorder's Court, a license to keep the house. He would inquire as to how the license had been issued.

An examination followed showing that the license had been issued without authority, through mistake.

The motion to indefinitely postpone, carried.

On motion, the license held by Mr. Phillippi, to retail liquors at the "Bella Union" saloon, was then revoked.

A petition for a change of grade on Fourth street, between College and Hall streets, signed by Messrs. Birch, Davis, and others, asking that the Council cause a re-survey of the locality in question, was referred to the committee on streets and public property.

The Committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred the petition of Ad. Miller for reduction of assessment of personal property, reported adverse to the same, as ample time had been given the petitioner, who was a [illegible] of the city, and here during the period to apply for relief, but he had made no application then, and to change the matter now would retard the collection of tax[illegible], etc., and that they, furthermore did not believe the [illegible] was over-estimated when made. The [illegible] was adopted.

A [illegible] for the erection of a lamp post on the corner of Fourth and D streets was received, and referred to the [illegible] on streets and public property. The Gas Light Company have agreed—according to the petition—to extend the street mains to the place designated, in case the Council order the post erected, and it is claimed that [illegible] the main thoroughfare for nearly all the residents of that part of the city.

The [illegible] on health and police reported favorably [illegible] of numerous citizens for the purchase of the "Crawford" Cemetery grounds, and recommended that the city make the purchase.

[illegible] to read the petitions in connection [illegible]. Some two hundred names were attached, and a motion was made to suspend reading the list.

Mr. [illegible] objected, and insisted upon the reading that the Council might know who had asked that the [illegible]. But few members have seen the paper, and as it was signed by a very large portion of the respectability of the city, he was anxious that the members know the fact. There was a great interest felt in the city, and the subject having been brought up it should be [illegible] treated.

The [illegible] the reading carried.

Mr. McCraken made a motion that the report be re[illegible], and that the committee report by ordinance; [illegible]

Warrants were authorized in payment of contractors, and [illegible] of claims against the city, as follows: J. H. Perry & Co., improvement of Washington street, $1,[illegible]; H. D. [illegible], do., $110; D. Monnastes, repairs to [illegible] at corner crossing of Taylor streets $7 [illegible]; [illegible], do., $20 64; Smith & Fox, repairs for No. 2, $[illegible]; D. Monnastes, repairs for No. 4, $9 50; K. L. [illegible], advertising, $22 50; J. Underhill, hack for No. 2, $[illegible]; Smith Bros.; work for Department, $6; [illegible] and B. Griffin, work on plaza, $5 each; [illegible], dirt for plaza, $9 50. Other accounts were [illegible].

[illegible] providing for the improvement of First street by [illegible] down the Nicolson pavement, to be [illegible] on or before August 1st, 1866, declaring the [illegible] cost of the same, from the center of Vine street to the north line of Madison street, to be $37,571, [illegible] the same, and entering the [illegible] on the docket [illegible], as provided by the charter; and authorizing the committee on streets and public property to contract for the work—were passed, under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. McCraken called the attention of the Council to the [illegible] should be started for the improvement of Front street, below Pine, and above C street.

The Street [illegible] was ordered to have the south line of the Plaza fence moved, so as to not interrupt [illegible] down sidewalks on Madison street.

[illegible]—An unsophisticated country gentleman, [illegible] somewhere around Lewis River, in [illegible], has been stopping in this city for [illegible], having come here on business no doubt, [illegible] with his farm, and was duly initiated in the [illegible] of ceremonies that infest the low doggeries [illegible]. From his own story it appears [illegible] standing on the corner of Front and Morrison [illegible] evening, thinking of the "old woman" and the folks at home, his ears were delighted by [illegible] strains of music that crept up to the [illegible] the gratings of the sidewalk, from the [illegible] below. He had an itching to visit the place, [illegible] a "youngish man" who came along, how[illegible] with the saloon. This youngish man very [illegible] to pilot the old man in, and they walked [illegible] street about a hundred feet and turned to [illegible] a narrow passage way, and then descended [illegible] when they were fairly into the saloon. He [illegible] it was a nice place, as a very modest [illegible] lady, politely asked him to sit down. [illegible] and she immediately took a chair and sat [illegible] side. He somehow can't describe his feel[illegible] anyway, the nice young girl was named [illegible] he "kinder liked her." After a social chat [illegible] him to stand treat. He said he "hated [illegible] at first, telling Mary that the old woman [illegible] find it out, and it was not right—he came [illegible] the cattle, and not to drink—but finally the [illegible] prevailed on him to treat. One bottle of wine after another was brought on, and Mary insisted that all her friends should drink—which they did—but the stranger kept sober, and drank but a few times. He [illegible] of $35 50 when he was "introduced," and being having a good time with Mary, and arranging matters for a future meeting, he spent nearly every cent, so that when called on to pay for the last bottle, $5, he was obliged to break his last $20 piece to put 24 cents with the rest of the change. He then pocketed $10 75, all he had left of the $41 50, and Kate, a friend of Mary, started out on the street with him to find Mary, who had gone away. He says they walked around, about a block, and he started up a pair of stairs ahead of Kate, when she put her hand into his pocket and stole his purse with the $10 75, every cent he had. She then ran away and he has not seen her since, but we believe the Police have, and the case will come before Justice [illegible] to-day. The old man is very well initiated, and is not likely to forget the ceremonies performed at our [illegible].

[illegible]—Warrants were issued on Tuesday night for the [illegible] of Isaac [illegible] and Julius Strauss, charged with [illegible] a trunk at the store of Mrs. Levy, and taking the goods consisting of valuable silks, etc., from the same place. Officer Saunders left by the Cascade with a hope of overtaking the parties at the Dalles. A part of the stolen property has been found in the city, and one of the [illegible] of Second street was taken into custody on Tuesday on a charge of secreting the goods. The [illegible] was most bunglingly performed by the [illegible] who have failed to cover up their track with the [illegible] facility of keeping out of the Penitentiary if captured and brought back to Portland. We are not at liberty to publish all the facts at present connected with [illegible]. Young [illegible], and for that matter [illegible] also, have been looked upon in the light of being heretofore respectable, at least in this community.

St. Patrick's Day.—The 17th of March, Saturday next, will be appropriately celebrated in this city, by our Irish fellow citizens. All Irishmen of the State, and of Washington Territory, are invited to participate with those of this city in the celebration. The oration will be delivered by E. A. Cronin, Esq. A dinner will be served at the New Columbian, by Mr. P. B. Sinnott, after the proceedings of the day, and in the evening the Hibernian Society will give a ball at the Lincoln House. The celebrated band of the 14th Infantry have been engaged for the occasion. More full particulars are given in another [illegible].

The Case of Wm. Hill.—Buckskin Bill was discharged [illegible] morning, on motion of his counsel, on examination for obstructing the sidewalks and crossings, because of the officer making the arrest, Mr. Saunders, being [illegible], and not having made oath to the complaint before he left. Mr. Saunders was sent to the Dalles early yesterday morning to make the arrest of Strauss and [illegible] man, if they were to be found there.

Excursion to Vancouver.—The steamer Fannie Troup, with the band of the 14th Infantry left the Lincoln House wharf at 4 o'clock P. M. yesterday with a large number of excursionists for Vancouver. An hour or two later the steamer Alert left Vaughn's wharf with a crowd on board, all bound for the same destination, to attend the festival of the Vancouver lodge of Good Templars, given last evening at Metropolis Hall.

Recorder's Court.—J. J. Hoffman J., March 14th, 1866. Wm. Downey, one of the Bloody 14th arrested for being drunk and sleeping on the sidewalk, sent up for two days.... Frank Soule, arrested on complaint of W. E. Burton, for assault, discharged. W. E. [illegible].—Death came too soon to our fly—the first fly of spring—which paid us so friendly a visit on Tuesday. Yesterday we found the insect corraled in the meshes of a spider, the animal of that class so remarkable for taking their prey, and the last spark of life was smothered, leaving nothing but the form, suspended among the silken threads.

Candidate for County Judge.—The friends of Judge J. F. McCoy, have placed his name before the public as a [illegible] for the office of County Judge, subject to the action of the County Convention, to meet on the 24th inst. in this city.

[illegible].—There was a mistake occurred in our report [illegible]. Sarah Doe was fined $5 and costs instead of $20, as reported. It was a mistake of the Printer.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MARCH 14.

Congressional Proceedings.

Washington, March 13.—The Senate considered the bill admitting Colorado into the Union. Mr. Trumbull advocated the bill, saying the people had been invited [illegible] a State Government. [illegible] A vote was ordered on the third reading of the bill which simply recognizes Colorado as a State in the Union. It was defeated, yeas 19, nays 25.

The House passed the civil rights bill as amended, ayes 110, noes 38, and resumed the consideration of the fortification appropriation bill. An amendment was adopted appropriating seventy five thousand dollars for the fort at Lyon Point, where there is now only an earth battery. The bill then passed. It includes the appropriation of ninety thousand dollars for works at Alcatraz Island, San Francisco bay, and two hundred and fifty thousand dollars for works at Fort Point.

Quantrel Arrested—Report of Revenue Commissioner.

Washington, March 14.—A man supposed to be Quantrel, the notorious guerilla, has been arrested in New York, and brought here, and persons have been sent for to identify him.

The report of the Revenue Commissioners in regard to foreign trade and domestic industry, as affecting the internal revenue, was sent to Congress to-day. It favors specific duties and [illegible] as follows: Indications are very strong that the prompt action of Congress may be required for the relief of the country before any revision of the tariff can be effected. There are great temptations to send goods to this country and a great deal in that direction has attracted attention and given us full notice that should the movement continue it may become not only expedient but necessary for special legislation to check importation which may bring distress on the working classes and heavy loss upon the revenue.

Union Victory in New Hampshire.

Concord, N. H., March 14.—The Republicans have carried the State by 5,000 majority, all of the five Councillors, nine of the twelve Senators and one hundred majority in the House. The returns so far give Smith 20,000, St. Clair, 15,000.

Magnificent Presents to Gen. Sherman.

Chicago, March 14th.—A house worth $75,000 on Harrison Avenue, St. Louis, the property of David Nicholson has been presented to Gen. Sherman, and the balance of $25,000 placed to his credit in bank, by the committee of subscribers to the fund raised last August.

Foreign News.

Portland, Me., March 14th.—The steamer Hibernian has arrived with dates to March 2d. The London Globe pronounces the Times' statement about Russell's probable resignation, as pure invention from beginning to end. Turkey is calling upon the Great Powers that signed the treaty of peace, to send commissioners to Bucharest to inquire into the matter of the abdicated Prince Couza. It is understood that the Conference is to be held in Paris and not Constantinople.

During the debate in the Corps Legislatif in the proposed withdrawal of the extradition treaty with England, in relation to the suspected existence of some political motive for the step, the Minister of State asserted that the measure had no political significance. A notice was given to terminate the treaty because it had no satisfactory result, but the French Government had not relinquished the hope of concluding an effectual treaty. A member explained the amendment proposed by the opposition.

Marshal Duke O'Donnell had reported a bill fixing the effective force of the Spanish army for the year, at 85,000 men.

The London Herald says: Movements are being made to begin arrangements for the laying of the Atlantic cable during the summer, as at present arranged, the Great Eastern will carry the new cable and lay it to Newfoundland. She will then return to the Atlantic ocean, where she will, with her consorts, grapple for the lost end. The locality can be ascertained within a quarter of a mile, through observations taken last summer by Captain Anderson. It is not intended that any part of the old cable which is now in the Great Eastern shall be again stowed in her hold on the outward trip but will be carried in another vessel till it is needed. Three vessels, including the Great Eastern, will be provided with grappling apparatus.

New Orleans City Election.

New Orleans, March 11.—John T. Monroe, Democratic candidate for Mayor, was elected over Moore, Union, by 316 majority. Three of the four Recorders are Democrats; the fourth is a Unionist.

Once more Something about the Fenians.

Oswego, March 12.—The most extravagant reports continue to prevail as to the extent of Fenian preparations for an attack on Canadian soil. Gen. Sweeney has 25,000 men in regular military organization and ready to move, with immense supplies stored at Burlington, Ogdensburgh, Plattsburg and Sandusky. These reports, however seriously regarded in Canada, only occasion smiles on this side at the expense of our provincial neighbors. The Commander-in-Chief of the Canadian forces publishes a congratulatory order on the loyal spirit manifested in answer to the call for volunteers, and says the Government will make provision for protecting the lives and property of the inhabitants of the province against the piratical attacks of lawless men, who use the territory of a neighboring power for the purpose of openly organizing these expeditions.

Chicago, March 13th.—A Canadian correspondent gives a plausible theory for the military bubble, asserting that it is based on real sense of danger, but is managed so that opposition may be silenced and the confederation scheme carried next month in Parliament. The alarm being sounded so soon after the meeting of the Governors in Montreal, is significant. It is the belief that the whole thing is for political purposes and is hourly taking hold of the public. If this is their object, it will in all probability be successful, for all parties seem to have forgotten their differences and united for defense.

Supreme Court Decision.

Washington, March 12th.—The U. S. Supreme Court to-day, in the case of the Frankfort Savings Bank of N. Y. vs. M. B. Field, Collector, decided that the Bank is liable to pay a monthly tax of one twenty fourth of one per cent. on deposits invested. Judges Grier and Nelson dissented. Judge Field did not sit in the case.

The Basis of Representation.

Washington, March 12th.—Representative Morrill in reporting adversely to-day on a resolution, proposing a temporary increase of custom duties 50 per cent., said it was the intention of the Ways and Means committee to take up the subject of the tariff at an early day. Propositions to amend the Constitution on the subject of representation were offered in the Senate by Sumner, Wilson and Grimes. Sumner's amendment is as follows:—Representation shall be apportioned among the several States which shall be included in the Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by taking the whole number of persons excluded from the elective franchise in any State, except for participation in the rebellion, from the basis of representation therein; and then shall be returned the proportion which the number excluded bears to the whole number of male citizens over the age of twenty-one years, in such State. The House decided to hold evening sessions except on Saturdays.

Legislation for California.

Chicago, March 13.—A Washington correspondence of the 10th says that Conness has introduced a bill to abolish the Southern District Court of California so that the State shall constitute one district under the officers of the Northern District Court. The act is to take effect May 1st. Conness has also introduced a bill to confirm locations and sales under State laws, of land grants made by Congress. It is intended to cover Bidwell's bills, and is supposed to have the approval of the Land Office.

The President approved on the 8th the bill confirming Field's Pueblo decision, which passed Congress without amendment.

The Senate has passed a bill granting lands to the Folsom and Placerville Railroad.

Appointment of Committees in the House—Miscellaneous Proceedings.

Washington, March 12.—In the House the Speaker announced the following select committee on civil service of the United States and to promote its efficiency:

Messrs. Jenckes, Schellabarger, Hogan, McKee, Myers and James M Humphrey. He appointed Harris, of Maryland, to fill a vacancy in the committee on private land claims.

On motion of Phelps, of Maryland, the committee of Ways and Means were instructed to inquire into the expediency of amending the Internal Revenue law so as to remit the monthly duty on average deposits of Savings Banks.

[illegible], of Ohio, reported a bill amendatory of the act incorporating the Military and Naval Asylum, which places the same under a board of twelve managers, like the Smithsonian Institute, whereby the difficulty of getting a quorum of incorporators together may be obviated. The bill passed unanimously.

Wilson, of Iowa, reported back the civil rights bill. The first section was amended so as to read, "all persons born in the United States and not subject to any foreign power, excluding Indians not taxed, are hereby declared to be citizens of the United States, without distinction of color. Inhabitants of every race and color, without regard to any previous condition shall have the right to make and enforce contracts, sue and be parties to suits, to give evidence, and to inherit, purchase, lease, sell, hold and convey real and personal property, and have the full benefit of all laws for the security of person or property; shall be subject to like punishment pains and penalties, and to none other, any law, statute, ordinance, regulation or custom to the contrary notwithstanding."

The following new section was also reported: On all questions of law arising in any case under the provisions of this act, final appeal shall be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Both of the above amendments were agreed to.

The Press on the Situation.

Chicago, March 13.—The New York Times (Seward) says that it is generally understood that the Reconstruction Committee have abandoned all hope of getting any proposition to amend the Constitution through the Senate. If Congress does not have a care, it will go to the wall in its great controversy with the President, just because it will not do anything. Members cannot agree on a policy, and so Congress floats towards ruin.

New York, March 13.—The Tribune (Union) says: We entreat every earnest advocate of equal rights to give support to Doolittle's proposition. True, it is not what they and we desire, but it is a means to the end, and as such, should be welcomed and improved. Sumner is so unhappily wise in his own conceit, that practically that we shall probably be prevented from achieving any result whatever, but it is our duty to keep trying as long as a shadow of hope remains.

The World (copperhead) says: "The President and the country have reason to be encouraged. It is now certain that none of the radical measures can prevail. The Southern Senators and Representatives may be kept out, but no further constitutional amendments can be carried through, nor any measures of mere legislation passed for opposing and humiliating the people of the South. The radicals are defeated and confounded, and the country will enjoy their mutual recriminations and their impotent rage.

The Herald (Copperhead) says: Congress is uncertain of its position, its duties and its power. It is full of factions and restless, revolutionary spirits. It ignores the Constitutional restriction of its powers. It has taken the position of the Supreme Court to interpret the Constitution by its votes. It has made a central directory of its infamous committee of fifteen, and endeavored to supersede the President, and has threatened to impeach him. In all ways it assumes superiority to law and is not a Congress under the Constitution but a faction governing in defiance of that instrument. It is from this very point in their history that free governments tumble into despotism. The people are the only hope of the country.

The Boston Advertiser says: Any measure which would satisfy the Sumner Radicals must be added to the long list of impracticable projects. If, then, we are to go into political agitation with no settled plan on the part of Congress, while the Executive influence is given to a course of action now but too clearly defined, then we must confess the chances of the future are dark indeed, and such as any patriot might well decline to make himself in any way responsible for. Regarded in this light Sumner's persevering objection, on the ground of theory, is something to be deplored.

Doolittle's Amendment and the Western Press.

Chicago, March 13th.—Mr. Doolittle's constitutional amendment fixing the basis of representation upon the number of legal voters receives hearty support from the western press, including radicals, on the ground that the measure at once carries with it no implication that the State has a right to discriminate against citizens on account of race or color, and may yet be superseded by another, declaring that the States shall not discriminate. It is believed that an effort will be made to pass the amendment as early as possible.

Peace with the Indians.

Chicago, March 13.—Maj. Wynkoop announces that the hostile Indians [illegible]. He has succeeded in getting them all below the Arkansas river and procured from their chiefs and head men agreements to abide by the provisions of the treaty of October last, putting an end to all Indian troubles and making travel across the plains safe.

California News.

San Francisco, March 14.—The coroner's jury in the case of Charles Vanderburgh who died at the House of the Insane rendered the following verdict in the case yesterday: Charles Vanderburgh, a native of New York city, came to his death from a fracture of his skull on the left side of the head above the ear from the effects of a blow inflicted by himself while laboring under a temporary fit of insanity. The testimony showed that the prison keeper had him in a straight jacket after he had hit his head against the grating and for the purpose of preventing him from inflicting further injury upon himself.

Samuel H. Parker suddenly died by heart disease at the Lick House at half past one o'clock to-day. He was going up to lunch when he fell down at the head of the stairs and died instantly. He was in his usual health and had been about at his ordinary business during the forenoon. He was postmaster under President Lincoln until the appointment of Mr. Perkins.

Not a Bit of It.—A friend from up country informs us that the Democracy in his neighborhood are jubilant over the idea that the present issue between the President and Congress will divide the Union party, and result in many accessions to their traitorous gang. They need not hug that delusion, for not a single man or thing in human shape who is not already an incorrigible copperhead, will ever leave any loyal party to join the one which helped the rebellion all it could, and now clamors for the exemption of blackhearted traitors from odium and punishment. That hope is a "dead duck."

About one hundred and twenty passengers arrived at the Dalles by Monday's boat, en route for the mines, thirty or forty being on their way to Canyon City. A train of thirty horses arrived there by the same boat.

Major Drew, Paymaster U. S. A., formerly Dr. Drew, of Oregon, is on duty in the Department of California, and recently started for Salt Lake to pay off the California volunteers.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of Impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle or selling any other material therein whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

Gas Well in California.—A correspondent sends the Marysville (Cal) Appeal the following account of a remarkable gas well in Sutter county in that State

I visited last evening, in company with some dozen ladies and gentlemen, the wonderful gas mines of the Butte Mountains which far surpass anything of the kind I have ever beheld But to give your readers an intelligible account, let me go back to the commencement of the work on this wonderful and soon to be valuable mine Some eighteen months or two years ago a company, composed of Dexter B Cook Wm Doty J M Cope and others commenced work on what is known as the 'Pass' of the Buttes From indications found on the surface they were led to believe that the place was rich either in coal or oil The indications were shale in abundance, water strongly impregnated with something very much like that which you find coming out of coal banks, [the geological name I don't know], it is between sulphur and oil, and the entire surface of the ground so charged with that gas that you could light it with a match almost any place The first shaft was sunk some thirty feet: from this the company commenced to run a tunnel into the hill. After running some twenty feet, the gas accumulated to such an amount that it took fire from the lights, and an explosion like that of a six pounder, was the result It came near killing two of the workmen—one severely burnt and the other blown out of the shaft [An account of which was published in the Appeal at the time] This work was abandoned and a new shaft commenced higher up the hill, with the intention of tapping the tunnel run from the first shaft. After sinking some thirty feet the company employed machinery in the further prosecution of the work The machinery and drill used was manufactured at the company's shop, and for durability simplicity and effectiveness is not surpassed by any used on this coast. Almost from the time they commenced to bore, the gas came up with force sufficient to clear the hole of the drillings, and forced the water that stood in the shaft from ten to fourteen inches high. The gas continued to grow stronger and stronger until they reached a point sixty five feet below the surface. Here the drill, or auger, got wedged, and notwithstanding that every effort was made to draw it out of the hole, all failed and the well had to be abandoned The company then thought they would see what amount of gas escaped from the well The top of the shaft was covered with boards; two pipes were passed down through the covering—one three inches and the other one inch. The boards were then covered with dirt, thus forcing the gas through the pipes. What the quantity is that passes through the pipes I am unable to say The gas has been escaping from this hole for more than a year, and yet the supply is now as great or greater than at any previous time When lighted, the flame from the smaller pipe reaches about twenty inches in length—the three inch pipe sends forth a continuous blaze between three and four feet high. It is one of the most beautiful lights you ever beheld. Six inches next the pipe it is of a beautiful pale blue, from thence up it is much like that made from the best coal gas It is perfectly agreeable to the eye, free from smell, and, strangest of all, entirely free from smoke. As we stood, there last night, in that beautiful mellow light, with valley and hill lighted up by Nature's own gas-works, we beheld one of the most beautiful and romantic sights it has ever been our lot to behold. This place is well worthy of a visit from those who take an interest in the curiosities of nature. What is to be done with this never failing supply of gas? There is enough on this one hill-side to light all the cities on this coast.

What Constitutes a State?—The Chicago Tribune answers this question as follows:

When we speak of a State seceding and being destroyed, we do not mean the population of the State, for nobody contends that they are destroyed, nor do we mean its territory, for that is eternal as the earth itself, but we do mean the governmental organization, consisting of its Executive, Legislative and Judicial officers, and the mass of voters which had heretofore been recognized by the Federal Government, has withdrawn from such connection and refused to be any longer a State in the Union. This revulsion is the act of the Governor, Legislature, Congressmen and voters, who constitute the living State or Government. It was accomplished completely and perfectly in 1861. For a time these State organizations maintained war with the Federal Government but finally succumbed. It was in the power of the Federal Government to have made peace with them as States. General Sherman in his truce with Johnston proposed to do so. But the people would not listen to it, the Federal Government refused it, and every one of the State organizations were ignored and blotted out by conquest as fully as were the Roman Empire or Hungary or Poland, leaving the territory and people of the former States absolutely without government, and therefore without a State. It does not follow that the people or territory were out of the Union any more than the people of Colorado. They are both in the Union, though the State of Colorado is not yet a State in the Union, and may never be. Our Government is E Pluribus Unum—many in one. It is made up of imperia in imperio. The Union is a comprehensive, imperial "State," which includes and governs all the people and territory between the Atlantic and Pacific, and between the lakes and the gulf, whether formed into State governments or not. Hence, the entire people and territory of the South are just as much in the Union as ever, though not a single Southern State be in the Union. For the State is not the people nor the Territory; but an organized body of men acting under the Constitution of the United States in harmony and participation with the Federal Government. New York is such a State. So is Illinois. But the State of Deseret is not, neither is Utah, nor South Carolina, nor Virginia.

Wilson on Federal Patronage.—When the Freedman's Bureau Bill was under discussion in the Senate, Wilson said:

It would be remembered that from the time Mr. Trumbull, on the 22d of July, 1861, reported in favor of making free the slaves used by rebels for military purposes, up to the passage through the House of Representatives the other day of the Suffrage bill for the District, timid friends and determined opponents had predicted evil results to follow the action of the Union party on these subjects; and although in every single case their predictions have been falsified by the facts, and all coming time will prove that they are wrong, and that the friends of this series of measures were right; that these measures weakened the enemies of the country and strengthened its friends; that these measures lifted the country up in the eyes of the civilized world, and brought down upon it the blessings of Almighty God, they still continue to prophesy and to oppose the completion of the series of measures that is to establish universal liberty in our country. Certain newspapers had advocated the use of Government patronage to influence the action of Congress. He would say to everybody who had that thought in his brain that the people of this country are not in any temper to be sold. They have decided that negroes shall not be bought and sold, and they are unanimous that the Senators and Representatives shall not sell them for Government patronage. If there is anybody in the country who wishes to buy or sell, he will find the American people will blast him with withering scorn and indignation. Go to the men who have furnished two millions of men to fight the battles of the country, and nearly three thousand millions of dollars, and undertake to buy them with the little penny patronage of this Federal Government, and they will spurn your bribe whenever you offer it.

"Our Simple-Minded Grandmother."—The Alta of San Francisco, (after that traitorous sheet, the Examiner) is the principal organ of the President in California The Alta believes with Johnson that "the South must be trusted," and with Seward, that "there is not a traitor in the South" Yet in the same issue in which it praises the wisdom of the President's reconstruction policy we find a letter from one of its correspondents which gives the following picture of things in the Southern States:

Another exhibition of returning loyalty in the reconstructed State of Mississippi is noticed The Governor, an ex rebel General, calls by proclamation upon the people to furnish the cotton due the State under an Act of the rebel Legislature of 1861, to reimburse the State Government for advances to the Confederacy This is an illegal exaction, and wholly null and void, but when viewed in the light of policy, it becomes highly insulting to the North It belongs to the same order of thing as the changing of the name of the county of Jones to Davis county, to insult a loyal and exalt a disloyal sentiment In West Louisiana the people lately had a general negro hunt with guns and dogs, pretty much on the same plan they would adopt to pursue deer or other wild beasts In business or in politics the people of all the rebel States show their decided preference for a disloyal over a loyal man The letters received from loyal men who have settled or are sojourning temporarily in the South, are all of the same tenor—that if the troops were totally withdrawn, Northern men would not be safe from the ignorant rabble

The widow of Gov R F W Allston advertises a boarding and day school in the columns of the Charleston Daily News.

A California Congressman on the Crisis.—A letter is published in the Solano (Cal) Press, written by Hon John Bidwell Congressman from the third district of California from which we take the following extracts The view he takes of the President's policy corroborates all we have ever said on this subject

The President is not, I fear, in harmony with Congress We try to claim that he is fearful however that the contrary is true During the war it was easy to be right it was then country or no country The issue was clearly defined We were then running in a deep groove that held all loyal men to a the possibility of error or escape to their country's cause The track would still be clear but for the course which the Executive has seen proper to pursue He seems to ignore Congress altogether in his work of reconstruction and if his policy is carried out I really believe we shall have trouble The freedmen would be reduced by State laws to a condition worse than slavery The feeling against the Union in the South is as bitter now as it ever has been The President's policy giving immediate and unconditional control to the States, would silence the Union sentiment in the South, which is in the minority, and drive away every practical advocate of enlightenment from the Southern plantations I feel it to be the duty of Congress to insist upon adequate protection to the freedmen and the right to instruct and elevate them

The Copperheads object to the Freedmen's Bureau and to everything that will give the negro a chance to be free and useful With these views I am at war and I shall not waver

Daring Robbery and Murder near Wyandotte, Kansas.—Mr E S Wilkinson has handed us a Landmark Extra, dated Weston, Mo, Jan 6th, detailing one of the most atrocious murders and robberies, that has ever occurred in modern times within the confines of the Atlantic States B F Freeland, H J Freeland, John W Freeland and Mr Almond, left Leavenworth in a hack on Thursday the 4th of January for Kansas City all except H J Freeland bound for Texas on a speculative trip When within two miles of Wyandotte, they met four men on horseback who, as soon as they had passed the hack, wheeled and commenced firing The hack doors being fast, they were opened with difficulty, when B. F. Freeland brought his revolver to bear and tumbled one of the robbers from his horse The driver escaped, Mr. H J Freeland was missing, the hack was shot full of holes, and the others sought shelter in the brush until morning, when, on their return to the spot, they found Mr H. J Freeland at a house near by, badly shot in one shoulder both wrists and the abdomen. He died in about twenty minutes His watch and a small sum of money was all that had been taken, over $5,000 in money being still on him. The murdered man was a brother in law to Mr Wilkinson, he has also numerous relations living in Oregon J W Freeland is a citizen of this Territory, being owner in a mill near Jefferson City —Montana Radiator, Feb 10th

The New Overland Telegraph Line.—The Sacramento Union says

J W Coleman & Co. have contracted within the past few days with parties in this city for the delivery in the State of Nevada of 600 miles of telegraph wire, for the United States Pacific Overland Line. The wire is already extended to a point 50 miles beyond Virginia City, and the additional quantity, for the delivery of which the contract is now made, will extend to Salt Lake City. This amount of wire will weigh 102 tons It is now at San Francisco, and will, on arrival here, be forwarded to Shingle Springs by railroad, and taken from that point, of course, by teams The transportation of the wire will be commenced at once and be completed before the 1st of June. The poles for the new line, to be used between Austin and Salt Lake, are contracted for It is expected that the line will be at work to Austin in six weeks, and to Salt Lake in August. James Gamble, Superintendent, expects to leave during the present month, to complete the arrangements for the construction of the line between Salt Lake and Denver This portion of the line will run along the Smoky Hill or Butterfield route. 900 miles or about 150 tons of wire were shipped from Liverpool for San Francisco to this company in November last, which will probably arrive in April. This is designed as the second wire of the line between San Francisco and Salt Lake City.

Wants Education.—Our friend of the Courier, down on "Muddy," is very anxious for the establishment of a "school" The fellow's head is "level at that point, but judging from the savage onslaught he makes on the King's English, we think a "school" would have but a "nominal" effect on his "abstruse" and "illiterate" expressions, and will "enjender" but little improvement in him.—Sentinel.

A religious paper, the Presbyterian Index, is to be published in Mobile.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.
Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies so that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those that are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans
Seminal Weakness.
Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, with pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.
DOCTOR GIBBON is no quack, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
